BRIGG
ROALD AMUNDSEN

SAILING AND DISCOVERING NEW HORIZONS

BRIGG
ROALD AMUNDSEN

On newbie trips, week trips, or two-week trips you can get an introduction to traditional seamanship aboard straightaway - whether alone, with friends, or in a group. Prior experience is not required, only the will to participate. Our experienced crew of volunteers will guide you aboard. Explanations are given in English, but the commands remain German.

Furthermore, we offer trips specifically for young people, e.g. international youth exchange on board during the Tall Ship Races.

*per day. Accommodation in 4-berth cabins including bedding and meals. Additional youth funding is available.

Cruise fee*:
ca. 120€
discounted
ca. 100€

Have you ever dreamed of sailing aboard a tall ship? Of setting sails and experiencing life aboard?

Getting to fold sails in the rigging? How about changing from sailing a yacht to sailing a tall ship with 18 sails? Are you stepping aboard a sailing vessel for the first time ever? Or would you rather experience a day trip during harbor festivals like Kiel Week and Hanse Sail?

All this is possible aboard our sail training vessel.

1 ship, 18 sails,
30 years in service,
440,000+ nautical miles traveled
48 people become one crew!

School classes can book a class trip aboard. We encourage serious teamwork through the operation of the ship and teach traditional seamanship. Whether setting sails together, watchkeeping aboard at anchorage, or having a swim when the ship is at anchor. We'll pass on our sailing knowledge to the group.

Companies can also book Roald Amundsen. For a complete tour with colleagues or for an evening event in the harbor, e.g. as part of the Kiel Week.
